

TEACH FOR AMERICA

Meet with a Radford '06 alum to learn more on Thursday, September 19

Attention Highlanders!

Come to an informal discussion with Aaron French (Radford '06) on Thursday, September 19, to learn more about Teach For America.

Sign up here to attend: <http://bit.ly/TFARadford>

Education transforms lives. All kids can succeed when they get a great education.

Educational opportunities should not be determined by your family's income or the neighborhood in which you live. That's why Teach For America is developing a movement of leaders who will help drive change at every level of our education system toward the goal of closing the opportunity gap. These leaders start their paths as corps members who teach for two years in urban and rural high-need communities and help students make the academic progress that expands their opportunities. Deeply affected by their teaching experience, our alumni continue to advocate for students and build lasting change in many different roles and fields.

This year, 11,000 corps members are teaching in 48 regions across the country, while nearly 32,000 Teach For America alumni continue working from inside and outside the field of education for the changes necessary to make a great education a reality for all.

To learn more, visit www.teachforamerica.org.

Full salary and benefits. Federal student loans deferred. All majors and career backgrounds.

Aaron French ('06) was a double Finance/English major and a theatre groupie, but also held several leadership positions on campus, including President of Alpha Psi Omega and Vice President of Young Democrats. After Radford, Aaron spent several years as a financial analyst at a big box retailer and consulting firm before joining Teach For America's Internal Communications team, where he focuses on connecting staff to one another and the organization's mission. You can find him tweeting about educational equity, communications, Steelers football, and everything in between @AaronMoFoFrench.