

2015 Distinguished Teaching Award

College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences

Call for Nominations

Each year, one Radford University faculty member receives the College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences Distinguished Teaching Award. The award recognizes excellence in teaching, the recipient is chosen by a committee of faculty members representing each department/school in the college, and the distinguished faculty member is honored by the college dean at a meeting of all college/school faculty members.

To be eligible, a faculty member must be nominated. Any student or faculty member can make a nomination. To nominate a deserving faculty member, fill out the nomination form below. The nomination form must be filled out completely and must be submitted electronically to Dr. Tod Burke, Associate Dean, College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences (tburke@radford.edu) by Friday, 20 February 2015.

To be eligible, a faculty member cannot have received this award before. Previous recipients include Dr. Melinda Wagner, Dr. Johnny Moore, Dr. Mary Ferrari, Dr. Thomas Pierce, Dr. Mike Aamodt, Dr. Ann Elliott, Dr. Matt Oyos, Dr. Jeanne Mekolichick, Dr. Kurt Gingrich, Dr. Carolyn Mathews, Dr. Moira Baker, Dr. Mary Atwell, and Dr. Margaret Hrezo.

To be eligible, a faculty member's home department must be in the College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences. The College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences is comprised of the following schools, departments, programs, and minors:

- Communication
- Criminal Justice
- English
- Foreign Languages and Literatures
- History
- Interdisciplinary Studies, Liberal Arts
- Military Science (Army ROTC)
- Philosophy and Religious Studies
- Political Science
- Psychology
- Sociology
- Forensic Studies
- Intercultural Studies
- International Studies
- Women's Studies

2015 Distinguished Teaching Award
College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences
Nomination Form

I nominate _____

From the Department/School of _____

Explain why this faculty member is a worthy nominee for this award. In your explanation, you can address the nominee's particular teaching strengths; his or her unique methods, innovative approaches, or exceptional talents; and his or her impact on students and colleagues. Please provide as much detail as possible to aid in the evaluation of your nominee.

Nominated by: _____

Your E-mail Address: _____