The College of Education and Human Development offers programs to prepare students for areas of specialization that include teaching in elementary, middle, and secondary schools; special education; and exercise, sport and health education. Students may select from a wide range of program options at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. Many of these options lead to professional licensure. Through programs emphasizing academic and professional excellence, the college is committed to the development of knowledgeable, thoughtful, skillful professionals who think critically and who continue to reflect critically on their experiences to become effective practitioners, leaders, and innovators in education.

Students in the College of Education and Human Development work closely with a highly competent faculty, 91 percent of whom hold terminal degrees in their specialties. The programs in the college are, in fact, university wide, involving general education faculty and faculty who teach in majors in each of the other university colleges. The faculty is dedicated to teaching, to providing service, and to promoting academic excellence at Radford University.

The College of Education and Human Development includes the following units:

ACADEMIC ADVISING

Each student has ultimate responsibility for meeting the requirements of his or her academic program. The College of Education and Human Development recognizes the importance of academic advising and encourages all students to meet with their academic advisers at least twice each semester. A faculty adviser is assigned to each student based on his or her major and area of concentration. These advisers, professionals who have effectively performed in their fields, now guide students as future colleagues. Academic advising goes beyond the selection of courses for registration. It provides students with an opportunity to talk about concerns such as building a strong program that can lead to a promising career, employment opportunities, expectations of prospective employers such as grade point average or extracurricular activities, and financial opportunities. The Center for Academic Advising and Student Support assists faculty advisers by offering general and technical advising to any student in the college. Center personnel are available to clarify policies and procedures as well as help students find answers to their academic questions. It is the student's responsibility to verify that all graduation requirements are met as specified in his or her selected program. Students are expected to contact their advisers to schedule advising appointments.

TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAM

All programs in professional education preparation at Radford University are accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education, the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, and the Virginia Department of Education. Information related to admission to and retention in programs and information on the professional studies component of preparation programs is found in the following pages. Additional information specific to the degree or subject area and departmental requirements are found on the following pages in this catalog. Because national and state standards are continually being modified, program requirements are subject to change. Students should stay in contact with advisers and with the Field Experience Office to keep abreast of possible changes.

- Completion of 45 semester hours of course work, except 50 hours is required for secondary education programs
- A minimum 2.5 grade point average (GPA) on all college work, a 2.5 GPA grade point average on all work at Radford and a 2.5 GPA on all work attempted in the major, except elementary education which requires a 2.75 GPA on all college work, a 2.75 GPA on all work at Radford and a 2.75 GPA on all work attempted in the major and in professional studies
- Successful completion of all department requirements including a departmental screening examination
- Successful completion of EDUC 309 or of EDEF 320 and HUMD 300 as determined by program requirements
- Passing scores on the basic skills test, Praxis 1, on the Virginia Communication and Literacy Assessment and on the subject matter exams required for licensure by the State of Virginia
- demonstrate professional characteristics and dispositions.

ADMISSION PROCEDURES

Applications for admission to the Teacher Education Program may be obtained from the Office of Field Experience Programs, Peters Hall A104. Students should apply to the Teacher Education Program at least two semesters prior to the semester in which they plan to student teach. The dates for the deadline for applications will be publicized by the Field Experience Office.

Applications are reviewed by the Office of Field Experiences to ensure that students meet minimal criteria to be eligible to apply. If a student does not meet minimal criteria, he or she is notified by the office and he or she is not allowed to register for early field experience or student teaching courses.

After the application is submitted, if a department conducts a screening examination, the department will notify the applicants to schedule screening appointments. The department's recommendation regarding the student's admission to the Teacher Education Program is then sent to the Office of Field Experience Programs.

Applications and supporting information are reviewed each semester by the Office of Field Experience Programs and the Associate Dean. Each applicant will be notified by the Field Experience Office regarding his or her admission status. If admission is denied, the Associate Dean will provide reasons for the denial. A student who is denied admission may reapply.

An applicant may appeal denial of admission by letter from the student to the Dean of the College of Education and Human Development within 10 working days after the date of the letter of notification. The student's letter requesting an appeal must include or be accompanied by a statement of information supporting the appeal.

RETENTION POLICIES

After admission to the Teacher Education Program, a student's progress is under continuing review by the faculty. Retention policies are fully described in Policies and Procedures Governing Admission and Retention in the Teacher Education Program, available in the Field Experience Office.

Each student is responsible for meeting all requirements for licensure and graduation.

By action of the Virginia General Assembly, all candidates completing teacher preparation programs are required to earn passing scores on examinations determined by the Board of Education and must meet other requirements as stated by the Virginia licensure requirements. Applications for graduation and applications for Virginia teacher licensure are distributed through the Center for Academic Advising and Student Support. ### UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAM

Exercise, Sport, and Health Education majors prepare to be leaders in the promotion of physically active and healthy lifestyles in today's society. A diverse range of program offerings in areas of teaching, exercise leadership, sport administration, and the exercise sciences allow students to pursue careers in specialized content areas as well as broad-based programs of study. Academic programs in Physical and Health Education and Athletic Training Education lead directly to licensure and are accredited by their professional bodies. The majority of ESHE programs require 120 hours of coursework (with the exception of the teaching licensure program) and include extensive field experiences such as practica, internships, or student teaching. For the non-ESHE major, the department offers minors in contemporary content areas, including coaching, self-defense, sport administration, and exercise science.

SPECIAL EDUCATION

Special Education is an option within the B.S. degree in Interdisciplinary Studies (IDS). Students seeking licensure to teach in Deaf/Hard of Hearing, Early Childhood Education/Early Childhood Special Education, or High Incidence Disabilities pursue the Interdisciplinary Studies major.

The College of Education and Human Development offers three undergraduate options: (1) a licensure option in Deaf/Hard of Hearing, (2) a pre-professional option in Early Childhood Education/Early Childhood Special Education, and (3) a pre-professional option in High Incidence Disabilities (learning disabilities, emotional and behavioral disorders, and mental retardation). The pre-professional options (Early Childhood Education/Early Childhood Special Education and High Incidence Disabilities) provide the course offerings and field experiences that form the foundation for admission to the 5th year M.S. program. Completion of the M.S. program is required for teacher licensure with endorsements in Early Childhood Education/Early Childhood Special Education or High Incidence Disabilities.

Also available are a nonlicensure concentration for elementary education students within the Interdisciplinary Studies degree program and a non-teaching minor in special education.

DEAF/HARD OF HEARING OPTION (IDHH)

Licensure Option (Hearing Impairment, preK-12): B.S. in Interdisciplinary Studies with Concentrations in Special Education and Communication Sciences and Disorders.

For students interested in teaching students who are deaf/hard of hearing, the College of Education and Human Development offers a Special Education: Hearing Impairment PreK-12 licensure option within the Interdisciplinary Studies major. In addition to General Education requirements, the Interdisciplinary Core, and Professional Education coursework, students complete concentrations in Communication Sciences and Disorders and Special Education.
