DEPENDENT AND INDEPENDENT STUDENTS

A dependent student is one who receives a substantial amount of financial support from a parent, legal guardian, or spouse. In which case, the Admissions Office will not only look at supporting documentation for you, but also for the parent, legal guardian, or spouse that you are claiming dependency.

If you are under the age of 24 on the first day of classes, you will automatically be considered a dependent student unless you:

- are married
- are a veteran or active-duty member of the U.S. armed forces
- are a graduate or professional student
- are a ward of the court or were a ward of the court until age 18
- have no adoptive or legal guardian when both parent were deceased
- have legal dependents other than a spouse

You will automatically be assumed a dependent student if you do not meet any of the above criteria. There are 3 presumptions described in the Code of Virginia that will be made as well, they are (1) the student is dependent on his/her parent for financial and/or tax purposes, (2) the student has the same domicile as his/her parents, and (3) the student is in the state for educational purposes.

It is the student’s responsibility to provide clear and convincing evidence to rebut these three presumptions in order to claim residency in Virginia as an independent student and that you are financially self-sufficient.

If you are not classified as a dependent student, then you may establish your own Virginia domicile.
