Change of full-time and part-time definitions for graduate students

- Implementation of online MBA and MSN-Administration programs in collaboration with Academic Partnerships (AP) has brought suggestion to change the definition of full-time and part-time graduate standing from 9 credits hours per semester for full-time students to 6 credits, and part-time students from 6 credits hours to 3 credit hours. There are no academic implications; this is purely a financial aid related suggestion. –

  1. MBA and MSN-Administration programs will use a 7-week course model in which students may enroll in two 7-week courses in one of two sessions per semesters. Students may not enroll in more than two courses during a seven week session (typically 6 credit hours maximum). Students could enroll in up to 4 courses per semesters.

  2. Students could qualify for full-time financial aid by enrolling in two courses in a single session or 6 credits over two consecutive sessions within a single semester.

  3. The change in full-time/part-time enrollment would apply to all graduate students and not just the online, 7-week programs.

  4. More graduate students will ultimately be eligible for aid at both the full-time and part-time levels. Students enrolled in a single course for at least credit would be eligible for partial financial aid. This is not possible under the current definitions.

  5. There are no issues with Federal Financial Aid guidelines since Federal Financial Aid for graduate students is exclusively in the form of loans (no Pell or other grants-in-aid).

  6. One issue is that if more students qualify for aid, the Financial Aid and Bursar’s offices will have a higher workload; this has been anticipated and is being planned for by the administration.

- A proposal will likely be coming to the GAC Policies and Procedures committee for consideration.

- Adjourn

Please reserve April 23rd for a final GAC meeting (if needed).

Standing member present: Amy Rubens (Graduate College, presiding), Teri Hills (Graduate College), Amanda Bozack (CEHD), Tom Duncan (COBE), Jeannine Everhart (RUC), Sara Nicely (Waldron), Bruce Parsons (CVPA), Jeff Pittges (Artis), Eric Mesmer (CHBS)

Standing members absent: none

Guests present: Becca Conner and Zach Johnson (Graduate College Admissions)

Scribe: Brooke Love (GA for the Graduate College)

I. Attendance and announcements

- Dr. Rubens (Grad College, presiding) reminded the group that Brooke Love, GA for the Graduate College and MFA candidate in Design Thinking, will attend meetings to assist with recording duties.

II. Discussion of probation, return to good standing, dismissal, and readmission policies.

a. Retention Data

- Rubens presented retention data from the Graduate College from Spring 2018 to Fall of 2020 (exclusive of summer sessions); data displayed only “negative action” items from end-of-term processing: grade of “C” notification (1st and 2nd “C”), probation and probation continuance notification, and dismissal notification. Trends are difficult to discern due to the merger and pandemic; however, data suggests that, while more students are being placed on probation, fewer students are being dismissed.

b. Faculty/Program Feedback

- Rubens, Dr. Mesmer (CHBS), and Dr. Bozack (CEHD) shared faculty and program feedback (received as of 3/19) related to probation, dismissal, and readmission policies. Rubens related that the majority of feedback has been positive and in support of the development of a suspension policy. Rubens related that some programs were concerned about professional/accreditation standards; however, all graduate programs are permitted to enforce more stringent policies in comparison to the baseline minimums established by the Grad College, and the Grad College will continue to support programs in this regard.

c. Next Steps

- Written, working recommendations that the committee can further workshop together will be shared at the next Policies and Procedures meeting on April 9. [NB: This meeting will not be held if the GAC meeting for April 23 is canceled due to lack of need.]

Note: No items are being forwarded to GAC for consideration.
