CALL TO ORDER
Ms. Linda K. Whitley-Taylor, Rector of the Board, called the meeting to order at 9:00 a.m., on Tuesday, January 29, 2013, in Room 2-G, One James Center, 2nd Floor, Richmond, Virginia.

APPROVAL OF AGENDA
Ms. Whitley-Taylor asked for a motion to approve the January 29, 2013, meeting agenda, as published prior to the meeting. Mr. Michael Wray made the motion, the Honorable J. Brandon Bell seconded, and the motion carried unanimously.

APPROVAL OF MINUTES
Ms. Whitley-Taylor asked for a motion to approve the minutes from the November 9, 2102, meeting as distributed. Mr. Matthew B. Crisp made the motion, Ms. Campbell seconded. Ms. Whitley-Taylor asked if there were any corrections to the minutes as presented. Ms. Artis indicated that she had one correction to the University Advancement & Alumni Committee report and would like to have the verbatim statement made by Mr. Stephan Q. Cassaday included in the minutes. After discussion, the minutes were unanimously approved, as amended. A copy of the minutes are attached hereto as Attachment A and made a part hereof.

REPORT FROM CONSULTANT TO THE FACULTY SENATE REGARDING RADFORD UNIVERSITY’S INTERNAL GOVERNANCE STRUCTURE
Ms. Whitley-Taylor then asked Rodney A. Smolla, President of Furman University and Consultant to the Faculty Senate, to provide his report on the internal governance structure at Radford University.

Dr. Smolla indicated that all of the Board members should have received his report and as such he would present a brief overview of how he came to the conclusions in his report, a copy of which is attached hereto as Attachment B and made a part hereof. First, he provided the Board with a brief synopsis of his background, indicating that he had been involved in higher education for over 30 years, as a law professor, dean, and now as president of a university. He noted that during that time he learned first-hand how universities govern themselves. Dr. Smolla remarked that at American universities, as with any business organization, the ultimate power rests with university’s board of visitors. That power is then delegated by the board to the university’s chief executive officer (a President or Chancellor), with regard to all administrative operations of the university, and to both the chief executive officer and the university faculty, with regard to the academic mission of the university. He also observed that the internal governance structure at Radford is consistent with this American higher education tradition.

He went on to reiterate that the governance functions that he was retained to review are those that are related to the academic mission of the university. Dr. Smolla explained the approach he used in reaching the conclusions and recommendations in his written report, included holding open forums and one-on-one meetings on the Radford University campus with administrative leaders, faculty, staff and students, and reviewing the history and current environment of internal governance at Radford. Dr. Smolla informed the Board that in his opinion the biggest issue with the internal governance structure at Radford University is the fifty plus committees that have been created and that evolved over a twenty year period. He noted that Radford has a history of inclusion of faculty, staff and students in the internal governance of the university; however, this has led to a large number of committees, some of which are duplicative. Dr. Smolla then referred the Board to his written report which sets forth his recommendations and a timeline for addressing those recommendations. He reiterated that the timeline is very aggressive, but he felt that there was a consensus within the campus community to tackle the internal governance structure and to make the required changes. He indicated that he is available should the faculty senate and the internal governance task force have any questions or need further assistance.

Following Dr. Smolla’s presentation, a discussion ensued concerning the report and the recommendations made by Dr. Smolla. The Board concluded that the best course of action would be to allow the Internal Governance Task Force to continue to complete its work and that Dr. Laura Jacobsen should provide an update on the Task Force’s progress at the May 2013 meeting.

Ms. Whitley-Taylor thanked Dr. Smolla for his report and the work he has done to date.

OVERVIEW OF ASSOCIATION OF GOVERNING BOARD AND UNIVERSITIES

Ms. Whitley-Taylor then introduced Peter Eckel, Ph.D. who is the Vice President for Governance and Leadership Programs at the Association of Governing Board of Universities and Colleges (AGB). Ms. Whitley-Taylor noted that Radford University is a member of AGB and that over the winter break she and President Kyle traveled to Washington, DC and met with Mr. Richard D. Legon, the president of the AGB and discussed how Radford could benefit from its membership and the services they offered. She concluded by stating that Radford University hopes to utilize the services of AGB on a more regular basis, and as such she felt it would be beneficial for the Board to hear first-hand what the AGB has to offer.

Mr. Eckel then gave a brief history of the AGB noting that it was founded in 1921 and is the only national association that serves the interests and needs of governing boards of institutions of higher education. He remarked that AGB has more than 1,250 member institutions—colleges and universities of all types (independent and public, four-year and two-year, and general and specialized) plus public college and university foundation boards, and tries to assist the over 50,000 trustees who sit on the boards of colleges and universities to understand how governance works. Mr. Eckel then reviewed with the Board various governance matters that are pertinent to all public institutions, including board responsibilities for institutional governance. He also detailed some of the services and materials that AGB provides boards to enable them to fulfill their responsibilities including conducting research, holding workshops both general and focused in nature, and the numerous written materials found on the AGB website, as well as, publication of Trusteeship, a bimonthly magazine sent to member institutions and their boards.

Ms. Whitley-Taylor thanked Mr. Eckel for his presentation.
REPORT TO THE BOARD OF VISITORS FROM THE FACULTY REPRESENTATIVE

Dr. Laura J. Jacobsen, faculty representative (non-voting, advisory member) reported on issues of concern and interest to the faculty, including internal governance reform (response to Dr. Smolla’s report), the faculty job satisfaction survey administered by the Collaborative on Academic Careers in Higher Education (COACHE) at Harvard University, and faculty salaries.

Ms. Whitley-Taylor thanked Dr. Jacobsen for her report.

REPORT TO THE BOARD OF VISITORS FROM THE STUDENT REPRESENTATIVE

Ms. Emily V. Redd, student representative (non-voting, advisory member) reported to the Board on the various activities and special accomplishments of the Student Government Associations (SGA) at Radford University since the November 9, 2012, Board meeting. She indicated that SGA continues to work on the student input regarding the core curriculum and the creation of a list of the changes the students have suggested be made to the core curriculum. This semester, Ms. Redd, noted she will be focusing on student housing issues, both on campus and off campus. Ms. Redd indicated that her goals regarding housing are to make sure that there is sufficient housing for sophomores who want to live on campus, that for those students living off campus they are happy with their housing options and are not forced into situations where they are uncomfortable, and finally to educate the students about housing options and to ensure they fully understand the documents they are signing for off campus housing. She concluded her presentation by informing the Board that the SGA has revitalized the ring ceremony, which is to take place on March 23, 2013, at 7:00 p.m., and the SGA continues to work on various promotions to encourage students to attend and support Radford University athletic events.

She reminded the Board that University Advancement has a goal of $6 million, and that while progress is being made there is still a long way to go.

Ms. Whitley-Taylor also informed the Board that the alumni survey indicated that although our alumni view Radford favorably we are not one of their top philanthropic priorities. She also noted there is a relatively low participation in alumni activities and that we must continue our alumni engagement efforts.

REPORT ON THE RADFORD UNIVERSITY FOUNDATION

Ms. Georgia Anne Snyder-Falkinham, liaison to the Radford University Foundation Board, reported that the Foundation purchased 715 Downey Street and that the Foundation hopes to close on the sale of this property to the University very soon. She reported that due to the age and condition of Fairfax Hall the Foundation made a decision to demolish the building noting that the stained glass windows and bell were saved and would be returned to the First Presbyterian Church that had originally owned Fairfax Hall. In addition she reported that the Foundation owns 903 Tyler Avenue and that the Radford University Catholic Ministry has entered into a 2 year lease and has moved into that building.
