

FAFSA CHANGES ARE COMING

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid, or FAFSA, has been redesigned to be easier for students and their families. It will be available in December 2023.

What's New?

The new FAFSA is shorter — just 46 questions! And you can now list up to 20 colleges on your FAFSA.

Parents, spouses and other family members are now called contributors. Contributors are required to provide consent for the FAFSA to retrieve their tax information directly from the IRS.

Dependent students can now use the “Who is My Parent Wizard” as part of the FAFSA application to determine which parent is required to provide information.

If you have an unusual circumstance, you can now submit the FAFSA under a provisional independent status. The Financial Aid Office will review your information to make a final determination on your eligibility to be considered an independent student.

We are Here to Help

Be sure to list Radford University on your FAFSA using code 003732.

If you have questions about the new FAFSA, please contact the Radford University Financial Aid Office.

Before starting your FAFSA

- Each student and contributor will need to create a FSA ID. Each individual must have a unique email address for their FSA ID.
- You can create your FSA ID now at www.studentaid.gov. We encourage you to create your FSA ID now!
- The FAFSA will be available in December 2023. Regular updates are posted to the financial aid website.
