HNRS 300
Scholarly and Creative Inquiry

Dr. P. Niels Christensen

This course will prepare students to effectively and efficiently prepare their honors capstone projects. The course will cover all stages of the honors capstone preparations including idea generation, faculty mentorship, funding, and presentation.

This course is highly recommended for honors students who intend on graduating the following spring semester (i.e., juniors) or sophomores who will be off-campus senior year (e.g., doing student teaching) or sophomores who cannot take the course junior year (e.g., nursing majors).
